StelKast Announces the Completion of Phase One of Its Website Redesign Project

August 8, 2007 McMurray, PA – Bob Sciote, Vice President of Sales and Marketing, has announced the completion of the first phase of StelKast’s Website Redesign Project. This milestone marks the end of much hard work, time and energy invested by many staff members at StelKast to further the company’s ability to better serve customers and their patients alike.

Bob Sciote had this to say, “There are many exciting things in the works at StelKast and the completion of Phase One of the Website Redesign Project is just the first of many efforts by our company to increase our accessibility and visibility in the orthopedic implant market. We look forward to making more announcements about our progress throughout the rest of the year.”

With Phase One complete, efforts are now being directed towards expanding the website to make it more user-friendly and complete for company employees, customers and their patients. Feedback is welcome and encouraged and may be directed to info@stelkast.com.

StelKast Company is an orthopedic device company that specializes in the design, manufacture and distribution of total joint implants and instruments. StelKast offers a full line of hip and knee implants to cover primary surgeries along with an innovative revision knee system.
